SUCCESS STORY

ExhibitOne transitions courtrooms from dated analog-based audiovisual platforms to today's high quality, robust digital standards. We create easily controlled presentation environments where various media types from multiple sources can connect to any number of destinations – in a courtroom, throughout a building or across an entire court system. ExhibitOne moved the audiovisual systems of four US District Court courtrooms, District of Nevada, Reno onto the District Court's IP network. By leveraging their IP network, the courtrooms now have the benefit of a highly scalable, flexible and cost effective AV technology infrastructure on which they can build for the future.
